UNITED NATIONS CUTS DEEPEN DEBATE OVER REFORM & RELEVANCE

(devex.com, 3-18-26)

(EXCERPT)

The United Nations has spent the past year tightening its belt. Through the UN80 initiative, the organization has cut roughly 20% of its administrative budget — moves that may help convince skeptical U.S. policymakers that it's serious about tackling bureaucratic bloat...Washington's failure to pay its dues fuels a cash crisis that U.N. Secretary-General António Guterres says risks an "imminent financial collapse."

Critics say the reforms miss the bigger question: What the U.N. is actually for in a far messier world...Meanwhile, the race to replace Guterres — who steps down at the end of the year — could reshape the institution's future. Jane Kinninmont, CEO at the United Nations Association-UK, called the leadership change "a major opportunity to reset" the organization's priorities. But Daniel Forti, the head of U.N. affairs at the International Crisis Group, warned that candidates may take the easier route — promising capitals a safer, quieter U.N. rather than a more ambitious one.

(EXCERPT) The war in Iran has bottled up one-fifth of the world's oil, putting a premium on the remaining supply, including Russian barrels. Earlier this month, the U.S. Issued a 30-day waiver that allows countries to buy Russian oil already at sea without the fear of sanctions which the U.S. has steadily imposed on the country and those that buy oil from its largest producers since its full-scale invasion of Ukraine in 2022...after years of big discounts and covert tactics to sell their oil abroad, the easing of Russian sanctions has already given Putin and other Russian officials new confidence, as well as hope that this U.S. leniency will last longer than its April 11 expiration date...Russia has earned an es-timated $7 billion in the first two weeks of March from selling fossil fuels since the start of the war, according to a Guardian analysis of data from the Centre for Research on Energy and Clean Air. The Russian Federation is the current king of the north (as you can see pointed out in the Daniel 11 Hypothesis on biblicalresearchlabs.com) and the United States is the current king of the south. Daniel 11 verses 13 through 15 being where you can read about the return of the king of the north following the fall of Soviet Russia which was the second king of the north, beginning September 30, 2015 with Russia's entry into Syria and continuing on up to the invasion of Ukraine in 2022 and up to now...not only openly as a visible military force, but also through the hidden agents of Edom being used to infiltrate the left/right paradigm which is for the most part controlled by the Kenites on the unipolar end of the globalist spectrum as opposed to the multipolarist Kenites who for the most part control the Ezekiel 38 confederacy which includes Iran, but is headed by Gog: the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal meaning most likely Moscow and Tobolsk, as nation continues to rise against nation, meaning the Kenite nation rising against itself through two warring factions within the shadow government thereof, which is symbolized by the he goat of Daniel 8. The ram in Daniel 8 is symbolic of Ephraim and Manasseh (i.e. the U.K. Including the British Commonwealth and the United States) during the world wars, which brought about the United Nations in 1945, which is the great horn of the he goat that has to get 'broken' before the one world political system of Revelation 13 can emerge when Satan and his angels get cast to earth at the woe of the fifth trumpet at the beginning of the five month long hour of temptation...then, after the one world political system gets wounded to death, it becomes a one world religious system when Satan appears as the antichrist at the woe of the sixth trumpet.
